Abstract (en)
[origin: EP3040290A1] A scented sheet member, in which a gelatin gel including at least one of a perfume and a perfume-containing microcapsule is enclosed in a space between film sheets in at least one of which a perfume-permeating hole is formed, is affixed to an inner surface of an upper surface of the containing box so that the at least one of the film sheets having the micropore faces a stack of paper tissues. This can provide a scented paper tissue container that can strengthen a scent when necessary.
