Abstract (en)

A container (100) for consumer articles comprises a box portion (102) and a lid portion (104) connected to the box portion (102) along a lid hinge line (106) extending across a rear wall (112) of the container (100). The lid hinge line (106) comprises two lines of weakness (1061, 1062) extending from side edges of the container rear wall (112) and converging downwards to a hinge line vertex (109). The container (100) further comprises one or more rear lines of weakness (111) extending downwards from the hinge line vertex (109) along at least part of the container rear wall (112).
