Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2015036588A1] The invention relates to a method for printing surface of three-dimensional objects (2), in particular having a cylindrical or curved surface such as bottles or cans, by means of inkjet print heads, and to a three-dimensional object (2) having a corresponding print. A base colour layer (4) is applied to the three-dimensional object as the first colour layer, and a further colour layer (5) is printed thereon and/or a coating (6) is applied thereto. According to the invention the base colour layer (5) is printed smaller than the colour layer (5) and/or coating (6) thereabove.
