Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2015039983A1] The present invention primarily relates to active compound combinations comprising (A) propineb and a constituent (B) comprising (B1) one or more salts containing boron (B), and (B2) one or more salts containing manganese (Mn). More specifically, the active compound combinations according to the invention are useful for improving plant quality. The present invention further relates to corresponding methods and uses of the active compound combinations according to the present invention.
