Abstract (en)
[origin: CN105935271A] The invention relates to a toilet with a bidet attachmenet including a toilet body, the bidet attachmenet and a mounting board used for the bidet attachmenet. In order to fix the bidet attachmenet mechanically, the mounting board and the bidet attachmenet are provided with an undercut element and a spring element used for pre-tightening the bidet attachmenet towards the mounting board, wherein, the mounting and dismounting can be achieved only with the clamping and movement of the bidet attachmenet and an operation element capable of moving relative to the bidet attachmenet housing is not required.
