Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2016142007A1] The invention relates to a contact slide unit for a switching unit, comprising a contact slide (1) inside which a movable contact piece (2) is guided, said contact piece (2) being biased from one side by a contact load spring (9). The invention also relates to a method for assembling the contact slide unit. The invention is characterized in that the movable contact piece (2) is mounted in a winding interstice between two windings of the contact load spring (9).
