Abstract (en)
[origin: EP3081501A1] A film packing device (100) for a roll of film having or not having a reel includes a handle (10). Two ends of the handle (10) are provided with a coupling rod (11) and a base (12), respectively. The coupling rod (11) is provided with a quick-release unit (14). The base (12) is provided with a limit unit (15). The quick-release unit (14) and the limit unit (15) are selectively mounted with a first film application unit (40) and a second film application unit (30). Through the first film application unit (40), the film packing device (100) can be mounted with a roll of film having a paper reel. Through the second film application unit (30), the film packing device (100) can be mounted with a roll of film not having a paper reel. The film packing device (100) can be replaced with different types of film in a simple and quick way.
