Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2015121376A1] The invention relates to a shelf (1) for displaying goods comprising a goods support (2) which is maintained on at least one console (3). The at least one console (3) can be mounted at different angles of inclination on an upright support (4) of the shelf (1). At least one adjusting device (20) for adjusting the inclination of the goods support (2) on the console (3) is provided on the console (3). As a result, the goods support can be aligned individually in order to display or displace the goods.
