Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2015118245A1] The invention relates to a piece of luggage with a collapsible structure that can be varied between a form providing reduced space for storage purposes and a form providing expanded space for use, comprising an access face (5) and a bottom (1) opposite said access face (5). Said bottom (1) is bordered by four side faces (2-4). At least one of two side faces (4) is associated with at least one stiffening panel (4a) that can pivot towards the bottom (1) of the piece of luggage, and a third side face (2) has a collapsible structure which can be locked by side locking means (2d).
