Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2015155471A1] The invention relates to a bottle, a system comprising such a bottle, and a method for the production thereof. The bottle comprises: a glass container system (2) with a single glass container body (5); a closure system (3) hermetically assembled to the glass container system (2). The glass container system (2) and the closure system (3) define two different receptacles (61, 62) sealed in relation to one another. In addition, the bottle comprises a product dispensing system (4) for discharging the product contained in the receptacles (61, 62) from the bottle.
