Abstract (en)
[origin: EP3132892A2] A multi-sander kit, comprises a multi-sander comprising a casing, an electric motor located in said casing, and a driving shaft driven by said electric motor and protruding out of said casing. An end of said driving shaft is adapted to allow a sanding pad to connect thereto. The casing further comprises an interface adjacent to said end of said driving shaft. The multi-sander kit also comprises a sander attachment which is adapted to be detachably installed to said multisander by connecting said sander attachment to said interface. The sander attachment covers at least partially said driving shaft or said sanding pad when said sander attachment and said sanding pad are installed to said multi-sander.
