Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2015185829A1] The invention relates to a packaging for a consumable product, such as a can, provided with a substantially flat wall (1) containing an opening (2). According to the invention, said packaging comprises a stopper (3) which is mobile in relation to said opening and comprises a first part (31) located outside the inner space defined by the packaging and a second part (32) located inside the space defined by said packaging, said first and second parts consisting of the same material as the packaging. Said stopper (3) also comprises a seal (33) cooperating with the edge (20) of the opening (2) and with the mobile stopper (3) in order to ensure perfect tightness when the stopper closes the opening.
