Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2016005206A1] The invention relates to a system (10) for drying workpieces (12) to which a liquid medium has been applied. The system (10) comprises a workpiece accepting zone (24) for accommodating at least one workpiece (12) that is to be dried. According to the invention, the system (10) further comprises a suctioning device (32) and a housing (26) inside which a workpiece (12) placed in the workpiece accepting zone (24) can be enclosed. The housing (26) has a suction port (40) that is connected to the suctioning device (32) via a suction line (42).
