Abstract (en)
[origin: EP3192921A1] The present application discloses a garment steamer (1) having a host (2) and a nozzle (4) connected with the host (2) by using a gas pipeline (3), where the garment steamer (1) is provided thereon with a plasma generator (5), where plasmas generated by the plasma generator (5) are released through a plasma outlet (41) disposed on the nozzle (4). By means of the present invention, a problem that a garment steamer in the prior art cannot implement both odor removal and sterilization is resolved, and the garment steamer has functions of sterilization and odor removal.
