Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2016045774A1] A cigarette pack embodied as a hinge-lid pack is provided with elements which produce a "click" sound when the lid (11) is opened. These elements are embossed protrusions (33), which are preferably applied to a collar front wall (29) by means of material deformation, and pivotable tab click-lugs (38) which are applied by means of a corresponding stamping method in the region of an inner-lid tab (20). Both interacting supporting elements form supporting edges (36) and counter-supporting edges (40).
