Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2016060755A1] A closure for a container for storing granulated powder. The closure includes a collar and a lid, a locking portion (38) on the collar, and a locking portion (40) on the lid, the collar locking portion operable to releasably engage the lid locking portion when the lid is in a closed position on the collar. The closure further includes a latch element (26) on the collar and a latch element (22) on the lid, the collar last element operable to releasably engage the lid locking portion. Some embodiments are operable to provide two audible sounds verifying the lid has been properly closed. Some embodiments include a modified elongated scoop having a length equal to the diameter of the inner perimeter of the lid for improved user experience scooping product from the bottom of a container.
