Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2016088033A1] A fender (1) comprises an inflatable bag (3) susceptible to be inflated to go from an axially retracted configuration to an axially extended configuration when inflated, and be suitable to reversibly fold back up towards the retracted position when deflated. Advantageously, the fender comprises return means associated with the inflatable bag (3) to cause the inflatable bag itself to fall back in a pack during its deflation.
