Abstract (en)
Candle comprising a first body (5) made of wax, a wick (6) immersed in said first wax body with at least one end (7) projecting out of said body, a second body (8) made of wax, which encloses and embeds said first body (5) with the exception of an end portion of said wick projecting out of the first body, the wax of said second body (8) having a given color. The first wax body (5) includes a pictorial effect-creating device (9) which is susceptible to exhibit its own effect upon melting of the wax of said first (5) and said second (8) bodies, when the wick has been lit. Preferably, the aforementioned device is in the form of glittering aluminum flakes which become visible in the pool (10) of liquefied wax around the wick (6).
