Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2016153308A1] A compact cosmetic container in which a cosmetic material is taken out through a sifter having a mesh using a cosmetic-applying tool, such as a puff. The sifter is reliably and hermetically coupled to an inner container in which a wet power cosmetic is accommodated. When a lid is closed, a discharge-hole formed in a frame of the sifter is efficiently closed to be airtight by a hermetic packing. The cosmetic material is prevented from leaking while the cosmetic container is carried for use. The cosmetic-applying tool provided integrally on the compact cosmetic container can significantly improve the convenience of use.
