Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2016150678A1] The invention relates to an imaging unit (20), in addition to a method for the production thereof. Said imaging unit (20) comprises an optical element (26) which is received in a lens tube (28) and which is housed at least in sections in a guide tube (22). Said lens tube (28) comprises a plurality of webs (34) which extend in the longitudinal direction (L1) thereof and interact respectively with a groove (36) embedded in the guide tube (22).
