Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2016173907A1] The invention relates to a method for producing a package assembly (1). The method comprises the step of attaching a supplementary package (41) to a secondary package (3), such that the supplementary package (41) is arranged in a space formed between the secondary package (3) and a primary package (2) when the secondary package (3) is attached to the primary package (2). The invention also relates to a package assembly (1) and a blank (3) to be shaped into a secondary package (3).
