Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2016206727A1] The invention relates to a drive for a vehicle which is track-guided on a track section (3), said vehicle being supported on the track section (3) by track rollers (6) when at a standstill or when moving slowly. Lift-causing elements (11) are mounted on the vehicle and lift the vehicle off the track section (3) during fast travel, and drive rollers (2) of the vehicle act laterally on the track section (3).
