Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2017001072A1] The present invention provides a labeling method and a labeling device for applying labels (207) onto containers, said device comprising a gluing unit for gluing the labels, in particular with a glue roller (101), a storage container (380) for storing glue, which container has a device (370) for removing glue from the storage container, said device comprising a deformation unit (350) which is designed such that glue is pressed out of the storage container by means of the deformation device by deformation of the storage container.
