Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2017013133A1] The invention relates to a guide arrangement for a sliding door (3), comprising a guide means (10, 20, 30, 50) which can be assembled on a sliding door (3) and which can be moved along a guide rail (8, 60) in an assembled position. The guide means (10, 20, 30, 50) can be moved from an assembly position, in which the guide means is not in engagement with the guide rail (8, 60), into an assembled position. The guide means (10, 20, 30, 50) can be moved out of the assembly position into an alternate position, in which the guide means (10, 20, 30, 50) is arranged completely above a lower face (40) of the sliding door (3). The invention further relates to a cupboard comprising a guide arrangement and to a method for disassembling a guide arrangement.
