Abstract (en)
[origin: EP3326476A1] Airbag that can be adapted to a helmet, integrated in a backpack (2) positioned or secured to the user's back and provided with means for rapidly inflating the airbag in the event of an accident situation, also associated with means for automatically activating inflation. The airbag adapts to the helmet, covering same along both sides and the upper and rear areas, reinforcing the protection of the user's head and, in turn, protecting the cervical vertebrae, thereby preventing whiplash.
