Abstract (en)
[origin: EP3336355A1] The invention in question relates to the technological field of reciprocating compressors and acoustic muffler filters. It is disclosed a hermetic compressor, provided with at least one fluid expansion chamber, whose useful volume is narrowly defined between a section of one of the faces (inner or outer) of the airtight housing of the compressor and at least one wall section adjacently attached to one of the faces of the airtight housing of the compressor.
