Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2017032913A1] The mountable seat (1) comprises at least two crossbar elements (2a, 2b) at different levels, a lower element (2a) and an upper element (2b) level; and a band (3) adapted to be fitted between said crossbars. The band has two distinguishable functional ends (4) and a central linking portion (7) between said functional ends (4), said band being long enough to be arranged below at least one of said crossbar elements and folded up around said crossbar element, one functional end determining a seat portion (5) or a backrest portion (6), all of this such that the weight of a user, which rests on the seat, prevents the band from unfolding.
