Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2016130018A1] Method and device for palletizing packages (2) stored on shelves (9) in a storage rack (1a) using a palletizing unit (10) having a loading station (5), an unloading station (3) and a package moving device (8) horizontally moving packages simultaneously from the shelves (9) of the rack (1a) to intermediate storage plates (6) extended to a position above a pallet (4). The packages are then deposited in layers on the pallet by withdrawing the extended intermediate storage plates (6) one by one and starting from the lowest one, with the pallet or its top layer brought into position immediately below the lowest extended intermediate storage plate (6).
