Abstract (en)

Disclosed is a footwear product (1), the footwear product comprising a top member (10) and a base member (20). The top member is adapted to receive a foot and comprises a front section (11) and a heel section (12). The top member further exhibits a bottom side (14) and an upper side, wherein the top member is closed at its bottom side and is open at its upper side at least in the heel section such as to receive a foot. The base member comprises a bottom side (24) and an upper side (23) and a platform height (h) between the bottom side and the upper side, wherein the bottom side is adapted to contact a ground (100). The footwear product is adapted and configured to be functionally assembled from at least the top member and the base member, wherein the upper side of the base member is oriented towards the bottom side of the top member. A connection interface (30) is provided between the base member and the top member. The connection interface is adapted and configured such that the connection interface is separable by a momentum applied at the connection interface.
