Abstract (en)
[origin: KR20180108486A] A hob comprises: a hob plate; heating devices under the hob plate; and a carrier plate supporting the heating devices. Provided is an elongated support carrier spanning most of the carrier plate in one direction and fastened to the carrier plate. In this case, the support carrier extends under the carrier plate in a region for engagement from a lower part. The support carrier extends over the carrier plate in the region for engagement from an upper part. The support carrier penetrates a surface or plane of the carrier plate at least once from the lower part to the upper part.
