Abstract (en)
    A support (1) for a ballistic target comprising a bulletproof wall configured to absorb the impact of at least one projectile. The bulletproof wall has a central portion (2), at least two lateral portions (3) extending from opposite sides of the central portion (2) and diverging away from it (2), and a cover portion (4) extending above the central portion (2) and the lateral portions (3) and diverging away from the central portion (2). The central portion (2), the lateral portions (3) and the cover portion (4) define, in mutual collaboration, a compartment for collecting the projectile.
