Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2487117A1] The palette (1) has a rectangular base structure (2), and side surfaces (3) enclosing the base structure and arranged parallel to each other. The base structure has upper and lower sides projecting from reinforcement structures. Legs (6) for supporting the base structure are formed at the lower side. A recess (7) for accommodating a display extension is arranged at one of the side surfaces. The recess comprises vertically running back tapers that extend over entire vertical elongation of the recess, where the base structure has a slot-shaped retainer for a fastening unit.
