Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2017143043A1] A sole structure (45) for an article of footwear (10) includes an impact-attenuation support member. The impact-attenuation support member includes a first impact-attenuation element (102, 104) and a second-impact-attenuation element (102, 104). The first and second impact-attenuation elements (102) include one or more portions that are interlinked and that are movable with respect to one another in at least one direction.
