Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2017149467A1] The secondary-closure capsule (1) has a head (3) and a skirt (5) formed from a wrapped heat-shrink film, and it comprises a first tear strip (7) that encircles the capsule and is intended for detaching the head from the skirt of the capsule. The capsule also comprises a second tear strip (13) that is designed for opening the skirt so as to allow it to be unwrapped. The secondary-closure capsule is characterized in that it is provided to allow the first tear strip (7) to be torn off so as to detach the head from the skirt without harming the integrity of the skirt (5).
