Abstract (en)
A bag comprises a portable container, comprising an envelope with at least one opening, where at least part of the container is arranged to form a bottom and a back support. In this bag, the back support is hingedly provided in the container relative to the bottom, and the back support is arranged to be fixated relative to the bottom. In the bag, no external parts are provided at the outside of the bag. The back support may be a rigid rectangular plate-shaped member, hingedly connected at or near a short edge of the member to the bottom provided in the envelope. The plate-shaped member may be provided as part of the envelope or within the envelope as a distinct member. This applies to the bottom as well, noted that the bottom is not necessarily a rigid member; it may also be a part of an optionally highly flexible envelope.
