Abstract (en)

[origin: CA3018544A1] The invention relates to an audio system for reproducing sound in a collective space containing a plurality of individual armchairs (1 to 6), each armchair being equipped with a sound reproduction means (12 to 15) connected to a common source. Each of the reproduction means (12 to 15) comprises a specific correction circuit equipped with a means for communicating with a personal device so as to read a configuration file saved in the personal device of the user of the corresponding armchair.
