Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2017207397A1] Metering device for metering a fluid. The invention relates to a metering device (4, 82, 96) for metering a fluid, said device comprising a common supply line (6) and multiple discharge lines (20). According to the invention, in order to improve the metering process, the metering device (4, 82, 96) comprises multiple delivery devices (18) each having a cavity (24) for receiving the fluid and a piston (26) for displacing the fluid, wherein each of the multiple delivery devices (18) is connected on the inlet side to the common supply line (6) and is connected on the outlet side to one of the multiple discharge lines (20).
