Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2018007333A2] The invention relates to a roller carriage array (22) for a window or a door in the form of a sliding window or sliding door. One sash or leaf of the window or door can be moved out from a fixed frame by the roller carriage array (22) and can be slid parallel to the main plane of the fixed frame. The roller carriage array (22) has a first roller carriage (26) comprising at least three rollers (32a - c) in a roller carriage housing (38). Alternatively or additionally thereto, the first roller carriage (26) has at least two hinging arms on the roller carriage housing (38).
