Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2018030944A1] The invention provides a device for applying paint on objects comprising a support (1) for supporting an object (2); and two or more spray heads (6) for providing a curtain of paint (7); wherein the support (1) and/or the two or more spray heads (6) are movable such that the object (2) can be moved at least partially through the curtain of paint (7); and wherein each of the spray heads (6) comprises a longitudinal slot (21) through which the paint exits the spray head (6) when forming the curtain of paint (7). The invention further provides a method for applying paint on an object.
