Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2018029405A1] A method for merging, on a table (7), postal items (2) with mail articles (3) already sorted according to a certain sorting order comprises the steps of pre-sorting the postal items (2) into a rack having vertical slots, using an electronic station to assist with sorting the items into the rack, and then using this station again to help the operator merge the pre-sorted postal items with the mail articles.
