Abstract (en)

[origin: EP3501323A1] A zipper for clothes, comprising a slider (1) for engaging or disengaging zipper teeth. The slider (1) is provided with a through hole for a puller (4) to pass through; the puller (4) passes through the through hole and can rotate clockwise or counterclockwise with the slider (1) as an axis; the puller (4) is provided with a limiting portion (3) for preventing the puller from swaying left and right. The zipper can keep the puller stable on both left and right sides when the slider is hardly pulled upward or downward by the hand, thereby achieving a stable process of engaging and disengaging the zipper teeth and ensuring convenience in wearing clothes.
