Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2018078093A1] The invention relates to devices for preparing (10) and for distributing (40) medicines to a plurality of patients (32), said devices comprising respectively at least one preparation holder (16), a distribution holder (43) and receptacles (15) into which pillboxes (12) are inserted. The preparation and distribution holders are adapted to receive identical receptacles and the computing means of each distribution device access a database shared with the computing means of a preparation device. The invention extends to an assembly comprising at least one preparation device and at least one distribution device, as well as to a method for preparing and distributing medicines implemented with these devices.
