Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2018132864A1] Embodiments of the invention include (i) providing a playfield including a gaming layout adapted for location and/or placement of at least two chance elements, and a wagering layout having indicia representing a plurality of different final game outcomes, where all of the at least two chance elements comprise a plurality of faces with different indicia on each said face distinguishing from the indicia on the other faces, and each of the at least two chance elements being uniquely discernible by having a characteristic that is distinctly non-matching with each of the other of said chance elements; (ii) accepting placement of a wager, through use of said playfield wagering layout, in relation to a selected one of the plurality of final game outcomes; (iii) casting the at least two chance elements on said playfield so as to generate an outcome; (iv) settling the wager on the basis of the generated outcome.
