Abstract (en)

[origin: EP3574793A1] A footwear article (10) includes a sole and a knitted shoe upper (100) secured to the sole (200). The knitted shoe upper (100) includes a knitted fabric (110) including a plurality of portions (111, 112, 113, 114, 115) knitted from at least one yarn and a plurality of inlaid strands (122, 124, 126). The plurality of portions (111, 112, 113, 114, 115) include a front portion (111), an instep portion (112), an inner lateral portion (113), an outer lateral portion (114), and a heel portion (115) together to enclose a three-dimensional space (10a) for receiving a foot. The plurality of inlaid strands (122, 124, 126) are inlaid in the knitted fabric (110) along different directions of the three-dimensional space (10a), so as to restrict relative displacements of the knitted fabric (110) toward the front portion (111), the heel portion (115), and the instep portion (112).
