Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2018158157A1] The invention relates to a wall for a furniture carcass (10), having a core (41) and a housing (42) arranged beside said core (41), which housing is open toward at least one end of the wall and which is used to accommodate a fitting (30) which guides the movable furniture part. The wall is characterized by the fact that the core (41) and the housing (42) are covered on at least one side surface of the wall by a continuous cover layer (43a, 43b). The invention further relates to a method for producing a wall for a furniture carcass (10) and to an item of furniture or furniture carcass (10) having at least one such wall.
