Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2018215928A1] Method for the repair and/or renewal of floorings, in particular of solid floorings such as for example, road floorings or the like, whereby a bucket (100) is used for moving earth, rubble or residue arising from milling of said flooring. Said bucket comprising at least one mobile blade (106) switchable between one of two opposite end-of-travel positions, wherein with at least one of said mobile blade in the extended position, said bucket (100) allows facilitating the operations of accumulating and removing bulk material such as for example, debris resulting from the milling of solid surfaces, and also of engaging and moving at least one piece of equipment (300).
