Abstract (en)
[origin: EP3415135A1] A health care urinal for collecting and disposing of urine. The urinal consists of a container with an opening and a lid for closing the opening. Inside the container is a fluid absorbent powder enclosed in a water dissolvable sachet. Both the container and lid are made of a moulded pulp material. The lid and opening have complementing geometries that allow the lid to be held in a press fit.
