Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2019004816A1] A protective collar (1) for small pets such as dogs and cats to prevent licking of wounds, is provided with a short annular inner edge (5), which bounds a neck opening, and a long annular outer edge (7). The protective collar (1) is of a slack, non- form-retaining, pliable material (3), for example textile or a non-woven foil. In the unused state, the protective collar (1) will be flat under its own weight. After fitting around an animal, the protective collar (1) folds itself, again under its own weight, around the animal (61). To get the protective collar (1) around the head of the animal (61) and, after that to closely fit around the neck of the animal, preferably, a band (9) of the protective collar adjoining the inner edge (5) is of elastic, stretchable material.
