Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2019002053A1] The invention relates to a washing machine, tumble dryer or dishwasher, comprising a housing and a plastic base having a plate-like base surface, the monolayer or multilayer base having integral one-piece fastening elements of functional units and/or integral one-piece housings or housing parts of such functional units. The lower face of the plastic base has a ribbed honeycomb structure which is open towards the surface and has webs between the cells, which extend substantially perpendicular to the surface of the base.
