Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2019001886A2] The invention relates to a control element (102) for a vehicle (100). The control element (102) is designed to change between a parking state (210) and a driving state (220). In the parked state (210), the control element (102) is designed to enable a driver to switch the vehicle (100) from a parked state to a travel state. Said control element (102) also enables the vehicle driver (100) to freely select a gear (221) of the vehicle (100) by changing from a parking state (210) into a drive state (220).
